

Organizers Postpone 2021 NACV Show

Click here to continue to the news

Connor D. Wolf | Staff Reporter

May 14, 2021 2:00 PM, ET

NACV 2019 exhibit floor. (John Sommers II for Transport Topics)

The North American Commercial Vehicle Show has been postponed for 2021, the organizers announced.

The NACV Show was scheduled for Sept. 28-30 at the Georgia World Congress Center in Atlanta. The decision was made after manufacturers and fleets expressed concerns over traveling and attending large gatherings with the lingering effects of the coronavirus pandemic.

ADVERTISEMENT

“Each organization and individual attendee has made choices over the past months based on a variety of factors, health and safety being the most pressing,” Ed Nichols, vice president of event organizer Hannover Fairs USA, said in a statement. “While many exhibitors demonstrate commitment to the show and vaccination rates continue to rise, our research shows that the trucking industry will not be ready to attend large events like

Transport Topics

Click here to continue to the news.

NACV Show

@NorthAmerica

After extensive discussions with fleets, who cited their unwillingness to travel, we have decided to postpone the show. Additional plans by

7:41 AM · May 4, 2021

YOUR NEXT PLATFORM
FOR SHOP OPERATIONS.

FULLBAY. NEXT

LEARN MORE

2

Reply

Copy link

Read more on X

Hannover Fairs USA is a joint owner of the biennial event alongside Newcom Media. Both informed registered exhibitors of the postponement through a letter. The growing number of events competing with one another in fall 2021 also factored into the decision.

“While we are disappointed that we cannot produce the NACV show this year, we are eager to start working on the future event, focusing on reconnecting the trucking industry and delivering value to our customers,” Newcom Media President Joe Glionna said in a statement.

NACV organizers plan to share more information in July.

More Content About: NACV

Transport Topics

Click here to continue to the news

