

Litera Issues Statement on Withdrawal from Attending ILTACON

By Bob Ambrogi on August 18, 2021

 twitter  linked  facebo

After I reported earlier today that Litera had withdrawn its employees from attending ILTACON next week, the company issued the following statement.

"After assessing the coronavirus (COVID-19) situation in the US, it is with regret that we have decided that our team will not be attending ILTACON 2021 in Las Vegas. We apologize for any disappointment or inconvenience this decision causes. We believe this is the right action to take, given the circumstances.

"Our team will be in touch with many of you in the next couple of days, and we have several new and exciting things to share. Please join us tomorrow, August 19th, at 10:00 am CT for our CEO Executive Briefing.

"Don't worry. We will still be at ILTACON virtually. We will be putting all our effort into the online platform. You can visit Litera here to find out how to connect with us.

"We look forward to seeing you on the virtual ILTACON platform next week!

"The Litera Team"

Bob Ambrogi

Bob is a lawyer, veteran legal journalist, and award-winning blogger and podcaster. In 2011, he was named to the inaugural Fastcase 50, honoring "the law's smartest, most courageous innovators, techies, visionaries and leaders." Earlier in his career, he was editor-in-chief of several legal publications, including The National Law Journal, and editorial director of ALM's Litigation Services Division.

ABOUT LAW SITES

LawSites is a blog covering legal technology and innovation. It is written by Robert Ambrogi, a lawyer and journalist who has been writing and speaking about legal technology, legal practice and legal ethics for more than two decades.

Copyright © 2026, Robert Ambrogi. All Rights Reserved.

JUSTIA Law Firm Blog Design

