Fresh Summit is going virtual!

Join our global community over 3 days in October to see old friends, make new business connections, explore the latest products and services, share fresh perspectives and insights, and celebrate our industry's commitment to growing a healthier world.

As we have learned, connecting virtually is different than connecting in person and we are excited about new ways we can come together in this forum.

During this year's event, you can expect a tailored experience based specifically on your needs and goals:

- Recommendations of people to meet and relevant content, products, services and solutions
- A flexible schedule so you can engage live when your day allows and come back later for more on-demand
- Networking opportunities from one-on-one meetings and small group breakouts to large interactive sessions
- A priority on connections between buyers and sellers, with a variety of ways to engage
