COVID-19 Updates

For the fall semester 2021, North Dakota State University is expecting a full return to our traditional educational model, with both faculty and students physically in the classroom. Face coverings will be required in all classroom settings, and strongly recommended in all other indoor spaces when social distancing cannot be maintained. We also strongly encourage everyone who is medically able to get vaccinated. Free vaccination events are held on campus and NDSU will be providing a $100 financial incentive to students who have been fully vaccinated by October 15, 2021.
