Purpose:

The Department of Labor & Industries (L&I) is responding to the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic by amending WAC 296-800-14035 related to prohibited business activities and compliance with conditions for operations under emergency proclamations and their amendments issued under RCW 43.06.220.

Under the emergency rule:

- Employers must not allow employees to perform work where a business activity is prohibited by an emergency proclamation.
- Employers must comply with all conditions for operation required by emergency proclamation, including Washington Ready reopening requirements for all business and any industry specific requirements.

L&I is monitoring the emergency proclamations, information including guidance from the Center for Disease Control (CDC), and data on COVID-19 and will repeal the emergency rule if no longer needed.

EMERGENCY RULE

Under RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds:

- ☒ That immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.
- ☐ That state or federal law or federal rule or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule.

Reasons for this finding: This emergency rulemaking supersedes the emergency rule adopted on May 24, 2021, filed as WSR 21-12-027, as conditions have changed due to a new Governor's Proclamation being in effect (Proclamation 20-25.14).

L&I is taking action to help prevent the spread of COVID-19 and respond to the Governor's Proclamations allowing a phased-in reopening of businesses and establishing conditions for business operations consistent with the recommendations of medical and safety professionals as to how businesses may reopen without increasing the risk of COVID-19 spreading.

The initial March 23, 2020 Stay Home, Stay Healthy Proclamation 20-25 required residents to stay home unless they need to pursue an essential activity, closed all businesses except essential businesses, and banned all gatherings for social, spiritual and recreational purposes. The order built upon earlier orders closing schools and restricting larger gatherings. This was followed by Proclamation amendments adjusting the Stay Home Stay Healthy order and transitioning to a phased-in approach to re-opening Washington State, referred to as "Safe Start Washington". The "Safe Start" orders further build on these by continuing the Safe Start plan for county-by-county phased reopening where the subsequent "Stay Safe-Stay Healthy" orders rolled back the county-by-county phased reopening in response to a COVID-19 outbreak surge and the following amendments under the “Health Washington – Roadmap to Recovery” took a regional approach to easing of the rolled back restrictions and aligning with CDC guidance on fully vaccinated individuals. Under the current “Washington Ready” order, Proclamation 20-25.14, some restrictions are in place for large indoor gatherings and mask use is required for unvaccinated employees when indoors.

The Governor’s Proclamations and amendments create a systematic framework to reduce the spread of COVID from person-to-person interactions among individuals not fully vaccinated, safely easing some restrictions while also maintaining crucial hospital capacity, ensuring care for Washingtonians who need it, and paving the way for economic recovery. Business operations and employee exposures are one component of the overall public health emergency response presented by COVID-19 and ensuring compliance with the Proclamation requirement helps to protect the safety and health of employees. In setting conditions for businesses, statewide and county level data was considered. In setting the conditions for businesses under the “Washington Ready” order, consideration was given to critical knowledge gained regarding the spread of COVID-19, including a better understanding of the risks associated with certain activities and the measures that can be taken to reduce those risks, while recognizing Department of Health statistics reflect the continued persistence of COVID-19 and support the continuation of the state of emergency.

The conditions of businesses operating in the Governor’s orders are also consistent with the purpose of chapter 49.17 RCW and guidance from the Center for Disease Control and Prevention. Chapter 49.17 RCW and L&I rule require employers to provide a safe and healthy workplace free from recognized hazards, and an employer can be cited for a violation of the “safe place” rule where there are no specific rules to address the particular hazard. And, for COVID-19, lack of social distancing or failure to address symptomatic employees can be cited under the safe place standard. This emergency rule ensures clarity that restrictions and conditions on business under the emergency proclamations are also health and safety requirements under chapter 49.17 RCW and that employers can be subject to a citation and monetary penalties for violations.

This emergency rule is necessary for the preservation of public health, safety, and general welfare of all employees. Emergency rulemaking is necessary here because providing for a full notice and comment time period will allow businesses to reopen or reopen without following all conditions for re-opening, endangering employees and the public during the public comment time period. The Governor’s Proclamation has found that the hazards of the unnecessary spread of COVID-19 present an immediate threat to public health and safety. The Governor’s Proclamation is currently in effect, and observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest and the Governor’s order.
