NIC Boot Camps

"People don't just learn about how to value a deal, they take home connections as well."

Back by popular demand! These intensive, intimate, three-week courses features both live and self-guided content. In weekly virtual sessions, facilitated discussions enable attendees to analyze real-world scenarios, data, and case-study details, and to collaborate with fellow attendees on that week's topics. The course concludes with a competitive bidding exercise, based on an actual case study.
